REPORT INTRODUCTION & PURPOSE

Introduction

You recently participated in a multi-rater feedback survey. Both you and your raters were asked to provide ratings of your effectiveness on many behaviors. The individuals who rated you were categorized by what relationship they have to you. For example, they may have been your leaders, colleagues, and persons directly or indirectly reporting to you. They were asked to be fair and accurate and to base their ratings on their observations of your performance in specific areas. This report presents the results of this multi-rater feedback process and contains your self-ratings and the ratings provided by your co-workers, as well as written feedback provided by your raters. When you review this report, bear in mind that it is designed to be a development tool, not a complete review of your work performance.

Purpose

The purpose of the multi-rater feedback survey is to help you explore how you contribute to the success of your organization, and to help you identify opportunities to become more successful and more fulfilled in your role. The report will identify "the gap", which is defined as the difference of how you rate yourself compared to the individuals that rated your ability to perform based on the specific competencies.

This report provides you with the results of the survey you recently completed and is divided into sections:

Results Summary:

The first section provides a summary of your overall results, strengths and growth opportunities. This summary will assist you in identifying your strengths and Areas of Opportunity. At this point, a useful step is to examine your strong points by identifying your high ratings from the charts and then identify your weak points from your lowest ratings in the charts. This provides you with a quick way to identify where to focus your developmental efforts.

Competency Analysis:

This section of the report presents a detailed description of the competencies and individual behaviors measured in your survey. This information will help you pinpoint specific actions you might take to improve your performance.

General Results:

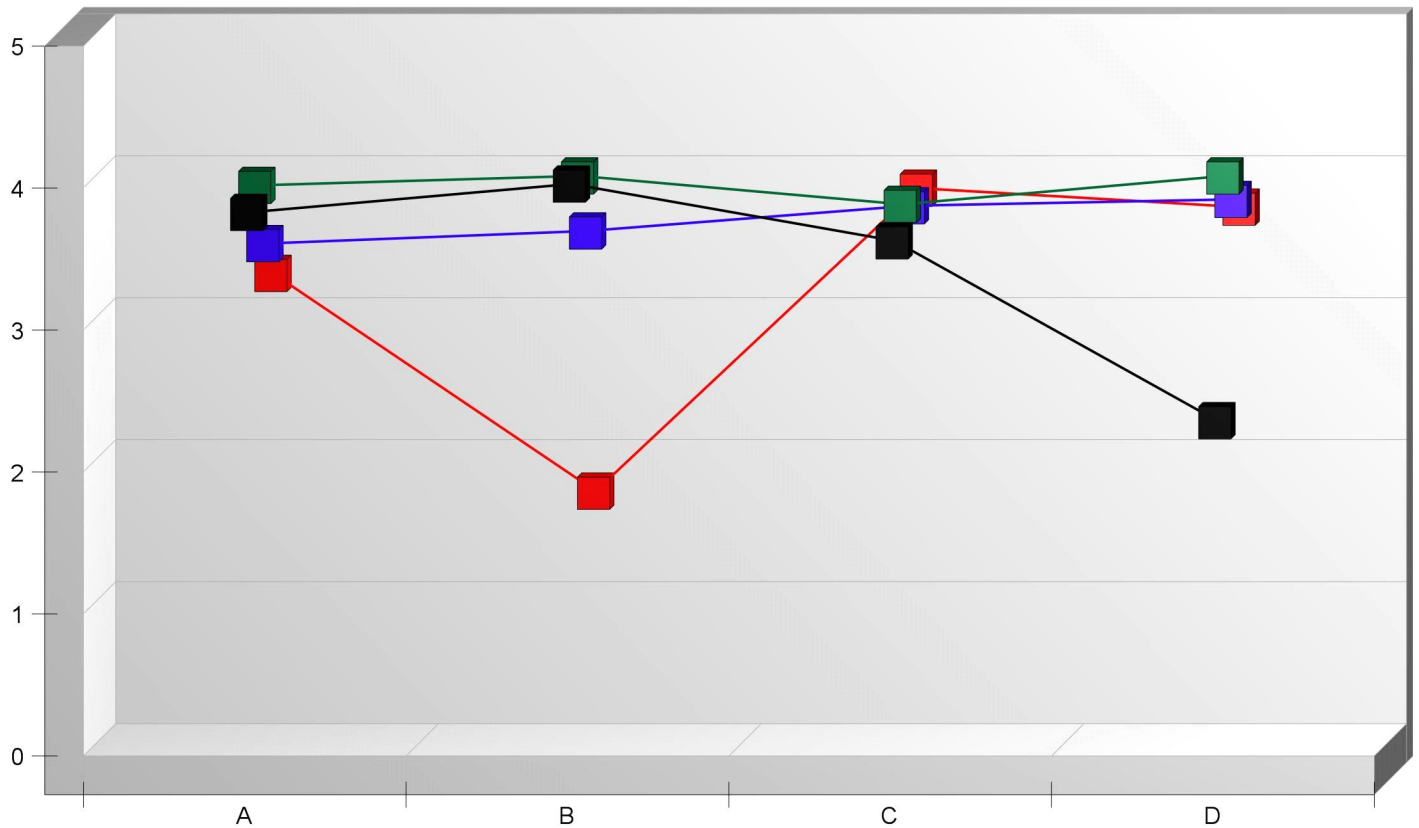

This section of the report presents the results for questions that were not assigned to a competency. This information will help you pinpoint specific actions you might take to improve your performance.

GENERAL RESULTS

Question 17.

How can this person improve?

- (Self) I feel that I have a lot to improve on if I want to be an essential part of this team. This is a test to see if these comments appear in a new paragraph or continue.
- (Direct Reports) Very professional and assumes accountability for personal performance. Is excellent at accepting constructive criticism. Has excellent communication skills and definitely enhances our working environment. Makes efficient use of his time and is great at multi-tasking. Always ensures that deadlines are met and manages his priorities well. Can always be counted on to follow through on commitments. Clearly defines his roles and responsibilities. Is effective at managing people and treats everyone fairly. Needs to work on his customer skills. He tends to not put the customer first which is inconsistent with our company training. Is an excellent employee and adds tremendous value to our organization. However, could work on his customer management skills. Suggest a training course to assist in this area.
